

Rifters

A place without a name. 18th Century, New Zealand. Set deep within a sparkling grey canyon shadowed by snow-capped peaks, a handful of pioneers crouch, sifting the earth, searching for gold. These courageous explorers trekked on foot, cutting a path into the mountainside, and sleeping beneath a star-laden sky.

Rifters Original Dry Gin is the aspirational spirit of those times in our times. Our unique bottle is a modern take on authentic gin bottles found buried in the Southern Alps over 200 years ago.

Handcrafted in the wild south of New Zealand from grain spirit, 12 classic botanicals, and pure Southern Alps glacial water, Rifters is the gin for journeys.
